

Finishing

Your time finishes when you punch the Finish control (at the double-circle). You should then proceed to the “download” computer (usually back in the car park), where your SI card will be read to confirm you have visited all of the controls in the correct order. You will then be given a print-out of your total time, along with the time you took between each control. Note that even if you don’t manage to complete your course, you must always go to the download point, so that the organisers know you are not still out in the forest and send out a search party for you!

Overall results for the event so far are often placed on display somewhere in the car park. Complete results will usually be published on the organising club’s website within a day of the event. As well as overall results you will be able to see how long every competitor took between each control – by comparing times you can see which controls you did well on, and which ones you lost time on.
